Looking into airfare as we speak. Took most of my vacation on my hunts this year but i will try and swing it!

Creeper38 10-17-2011, 04:55 PM

Anybody from the west coast know of a good airline to use? new at this whole thing. ive flew alot for work but the HR lady always set it up haha.

vern1488 10-18-2011, 01:01 AM

Richmond is one a smaller airport ... You may find cheaper airfare to one of the DC Airports. Personally, I prefer to fly JetBlue, but they don't fly out of many airports out west. Check Delta ... they usually have the cheapest fares across the US

38Florida 10-18-2011, 01:21 AM

Anybody from the west coast know of a good airline to use? new at this whole thing. ive flew alot for work but the HR lady always set it up haha.

Check www.Kayak.com and you can compare several airlines and airports at once. The destination airport code is RIC, but you might find cheaper airfare into DCA or IAD (both in Washington DC) if you don't mind driving a couple of hours. You flying out of PDX (Portland)?

I fly mostly Delta, but American Airlines and United are decent too. I try to stay away from the bargain airlines like Frontier, Southwest, Allegiant, etc. just because.

Creeper38 10-18-2011, 04:05 AM

Thanks for the info brother. i was going to fly out of PDX, but PAPA wants to fly together outta seattle. he says its cheaper which is fine with me.not a far drive. i will get with him and let yall know what is going on after we make our plans. i would like to fly into RIC so we dont have to rent a car or nothin.

Drew told me a while ago that Warren married etc. and sorted his life. Seems that he is now a serious man and not that punkrock-antisocial anymore. Nice to see them again after more than 10 years. Last time it was eastern Germany with Kraftschlag etc. in I think 1999 that I saw them play.

Hi guys, new to the forum but been checking it out for a bit. I'll be around Richmond for the St. Paddy's Day show and thought about checking it out, but I didn't know if it was a members-only closed event. I have read that membership is pretty selective and the process usually goes through a local contact/chapetr, so I wanted to be respectful if this for HSN members only. FYI--I'm 36, white, and pro-white. Thanks--Jay

toten kopf 14 02-10-2012, 08:07 PM

This event is open to all white activist.

There will be show shirts available that are going to help fund Hammerfest and depending on space I might bring some crew stuff as well. The show shirts are going to be a mix of red white and black shirts.
