

Our site is currently not optimized for Internet Explorer. To exploit the full functionality, you need to have Javascript enabled and switch to Mozilla Firefox or Google Chrome.

END APATHY INTERVIEW

Posted by Label56 in Blog | Interviews

This interview with End Apathy was conducted by Label 56 in April of 2010

Good evening Wade, this interview is long overdue due to my own fault but with all the good stuff going on with your band now I don't think the timing could be more perfect. I'd like to do this interview to let everyone know about End Apathy from the very beginning up until now. It was at least three years ago when I first got in touch with you after hearing your music on your my space page. Can you give the readers a quick background to End Apathy? More specifically- how long ago did you actually come up with the idea for End Apathy (and why you choose the name End Apathy) and start writing music for it?

End Apathy began in 2005 and the concept was based on trying to figure out what it would take to actually accomplish positive results in society and what is holding us back. A lot of what I realized at the time was that if we could figure out how to end peoples apathetic ways it would be the start towards moving forward. Of course after that it requires discipline, strict discipline to stay the course in our sick society. So, in a sense it was view of psychology and sociology. But I didn't want to just point the finger at what other people should do, but also I was willing to point out some of my faults on how I was holding myself back. And that is how I wrote the song "Self Destruct".

As you said End Apathy was entirely your own creation. What was your inspiration for wanting to do the band?

Yes, it was entirely my own idea. The inspiration was based on frustration that we have the potential to accomplish so much more as individuals and a society in whole.

The music you write is very clean sounding and to me has an oldschool 80's California skate punk sound to it. Am I totally off base here? Lol. How would you describe your music and can you tell us why you choose to write in this style?

When I first started writing these songs I didn't have a set plan on the style of sound, it just came together. I think it is mainly based on the mix of my influences and that is 80's punk, metal, and Oi.

What kind of topics do you write about in your lyrics?

The topics vary from sociological issues, religion, and how the value of human life has been degraded by being submissive to tyranny and hypocrisy that we are subjugated to.

As mentioned you have been writing music for End Apathy over 5 years but until now it has been a solo project. I'm very happy you stayed persistent with it because I personally love the music style you create for the band. Your persistence has paid off as you now have a complete line up. Can you let everyone know what is going on with End Apathy now?

End Apathy as a band has taken a long time to develop, mainly because it was a one man project. But

LATEST BLOG POSTS

VANS DOWNTOWN SHOWDOWN &...

Posted on 3 August 2012

Posted in Blog | Sports

SACRIFICING BOYS TO PROMOTE...

Posted on 3 August 2012

Posted in Blog | Politics

HARDBASS DANCERS MEET IN VIL...

Posted on 1 August 2012

Posted in Blog | Sports

RECENT COMMENTS

PHILLYJOE

June 3, 2012 | #

Thats awesome!!!

PHILLYJOE

June 2, 2012 | #

Great work, I could watch videos like this all day.

PHILLYJOE

June 2, 2012 | #

Badass!! Great job guys

PHILLYJOE

June 2, 2012 | #

Great work!! I wish I would see more of this in the states.

CRAPULENT

February 18, 2012 | #

Hi i am in a band Crapulent, grindcore from Spain, so i will like to split a cd with some grindcore bands, thanks now there is a full line up with Brent on bass and Ozzie on drums – both from Definite Hate and 13 Knots. We have the luxury of living close to each other and are able to have practice often, as a result we are ready to record our first release which is a 7" split with Definite Hate, then another song that we're contributing to the UPRISE compilation and our full length CD will come out after that.

I'm really glad that worked out for you. Just in this short time you have already done a live show playing with Definite Hate and you guys are all practicing together. How long do you think it will be before we will see End Apathy on stage live?

End Apathy will be playing at the Independent Artist Uprise fest, but we will also be playing at some local clubs here in North Carolina and possibly playing the midwest this fall.

You guys are also getting ready to do some recording for both bands. Label 56 will be releasing a split 7" this summer between End Apathy and Definite Hate. We are also planning to do your full length sometime early next year. Is there anything you want to let the readers know about these. What else do you guys have planned?

Even though End Apathy, Definite Hate, and 13 Knots share some of the same members each band has it's own unique style and sound. Our main focus is the upcoming recording and playing shows.

Aside from your band I'd like the readers to know a bit about you. Not many people may be aware but you used to play with Youngland out in California before moving out to the east coast. How long have you yourself been involved in music and are there any other bands you have been involved with?

I had the opportunity to play bass with Youngland for 2 years back in 2001 – 2003 and during that time I filled in for various bands on guitar and bass including Celtic Warrior, Radikahl, Max Resist, Intimidation One, Aggressive Force, Blue Eyed Devils. I have been playing music since I was 13, off and on over the years.

Are you originally from out in California? How did you wind up moving from one side of the country to the complete other?

I am originally from Colorado and had always been independent, but back in 2000 I set out to get involved and wanted to basically start over. So, I sold everything I owned except for my motorcycle and what I could fit into a backpack and went on cross country trip visiting friends and attending festivals and shows. I went to the Hammerfest 2000 in Georgia, over to North Carolina, up to Ohio, down to West Virginia, and out to California and that's when I joined Youngland.

What do you see as any differences between the east and west coast whether in the music scene or just lifestyle in general?

In some ways things are generally the same, but each area has it's own unique style and traditions. Influenced by surroundings and events. The southeast is much more laid back and relaxed with more of a hillbilly attitude and that is reflected in the music. SoCal was more of a fast paced, tense environment and that definitely comes across in their music.

Well I'm glad you have made yourself a home out here and things are coming together for you. I hope to see End Apathy around and making music for years. The closing words are yours.

I want to say a big THANK YOU to everyone at Label 56 for believing in End Apathy and putting out our music!

LABEL56

February 15, 2012 | #

Ok. it has been updated. Keep up the great work

TAGS

Italian NSHC Interview grindcore

Drug Free Youth Cd Release Party

Autonomous nationalists

96 Brigade- Can You Hear Us Now ? 4 Aces

Voice Of reason Radio neo folk neo fascism N'Socialist Soundsystem

If We Die Tomorrow Drug Free Dee Ex

ambient Across the Hudson

War metal Punks Not Red

Label 56 New CD's

Green Arrows NSHC slide

Hard Bass No Prisoner White Rex

featured Alex Kurtagic Blind Justice

Defiance Magazine Feher Torveny

Lyrics National Hip Hop Neo Fascist

Still Burnin Youth White Rabbit Radio

96 Brigade Anticipate- Killing For A Living

bike riding Concert Frozen Abyss industrial

ISD Memorial Joe Row an Memorial Concert

Like

2 people like this. Be the first of your friends.

Tags: End Apathy Interview

LEAVE YOUR FEEDBACK

CAPTCHA Code *

Submit Comment

Trackback from your site.

RECENTLY ADDED TO THE LABEL56 STORE

NEWSLETTER

Name

E-mail

Subscribe

LABEL56 ON FACEBOOK

FOLLOW US ON TWITTER

SUBSCRIBE RSS

Label 56 P.O.Box 172 Linthicum, MD 21090 USA

OUR VISITORS

US 10,309	FR 607	SK 339
DE 4,448	SE 527	GR 293
GB 869	CZ 506	AR 283
ES 825	HU 485	AU 275
PL 783	RU 472	BE 266
CA 729	IE 461	BR 250
IT 713	NL 457	NZ 202

